

Advance Hardware Replacement Service

Description

Advance Hardware Replacement is a Service that entitles the client to receive advance replacement of the hardware product prior to Aperto® receiving the faulty item. Hardware will be shipped next business day after determination and identification of product failure from Aperto to client's site upon request. Within thirty (30) calendar days of the issuance of a Return Material Authorization (RMA) or Service Repair Order (SRO), the client must return the inoperable unit or subassembly to Aperto. In the event the unit or subassembly is not returned in the above period, or is returned in an unacceptable condition, as defined in the terms and conditions of the sales agreement, the client must pay the list price per unit as stated in the current Aperto price list. The client's failure to pay the price or return equipment promptly will result in the suspension of services by Aperto.

For equipment under warranty Aperto charges 50% of the standard repair price should the returned "defective" unit was found to have no fault found. The intent of this charge is to discourage clients from abdicating their troubleshooting responsibilities and return good units to Aperto. In order to achieve this intent jointly with the client, Aperto is to review the No Trouble Found (NTF) rates on a 6-month basis. If the rate for any 6-month period is higher than 10% of all the returns from the client, Aperto reserves the right to start the NTF charge in the next 6 months period until such rate goes below 10% average for 6 months. Aperto will provide written notification to the client in the event it intends to apply the fee identified in this paragraph.
